

SEVEST acquires majority stake in DSI Aerospace

Munich, Germany; 28 October 2025

Funds advised by SEVEST Management GmbH have acquired a majority stake in DSI Aerospace GmbH from EHC Ventures GmbH, the investment vehicle of the founder and management.

Founded in 1997, DSI Aerospace specialises in the development of safety-critical electronic hardware with integrated, proprietary software algorithms for aerospace applications. The company has a presence in Bremen, Braunschweig and Budapest, and is recognised as a key supplier by all the major satellite manufacturers, including Airbus, Thales Alenia Space and OHB.

To promote organic growth, SEVEST will support the management in strengthening sales and operational capabilities, as well as expanding their product portfolio to include additional satellite electronics categories and expanding the international presence within Europe and beyond.

A targeted buy-and-build strategy is also planned.

The managing partners will retain a minority stake and will remain operationally active in the company. With their profound expertise, they will actively shape the next growth phase of DSI Aerospace.

SEVEST is an investment company specialising in medium-sized companies in German-speaking countries with a focus on the advanced industrials sector. SEVEST supports its portfolio companies in realising their growth potential, drawing on its background as part of an entrepreneurial family, its long-standing track record as an investor in medium-sized companies, and its active approach to enhancing operational value.

BLOMBERG (Alexander Pupeter, Dr. Thomas Poschenrieder) advised SEVEST on the acquisition structure and the tax aspects of the contract negotiations.
