

SEEK enters into strategic partnership with adelphi

Munich, 20. November 2024

SEEK Development, an international impact consultancy, has entered into a strategic partnership with adelphi, a consultancy and think tank. This partnership aims to promote a shared vision of a more sustainable future while expanding thematic and strategic expertise. This structure enables SEEK to retain its identity and concentrate on its core competencies, while also benefiting from the strategic partnership.

SEEK Development is a leading social impact consultancy organisation with particular expertise in health, climate, food systems, education, and gender. It supports leading global institutions in increasing their social impact, thereby contributing to a more sustainable, fairer and healthier world. With an innovative consulting approach focused on systemic change, SEEK helps global leaders to develop transformative strategies, build strong organisations, gain political support and create long-term and efficient financing structures.

adelphi is Europe's largest independent think-and-do tank for climate, environment and development. SEEK's expertise complements adelphi's specialist knowledge and creates scope for new synergies that enable innovative and sustainable solutions and a holistic service portfolio.

BLOMBERG (Alexander Pupeter, Svetlana Heil) advised the founder of SEEK, Christina Schrade, on the tax aspects of the transaction. The civil law side was covered by RAUE Berlin (Prof. Dr Andreas Nelle).

BLOMBERG is a high-end tax boutique based in Munich, Germany. The law firm focuses on advising entrepreneurs, companies and investors, in particular on M&A transactions, corporate structuring issues, succession planning and disputes with the tax authorities.
